“To the world you may be one person;
but to one person you may be the world.”

Dr. Seuss

Themes: Self-awareness, social awareness, empathy, respect for others, ethical responsibility, responsible decision-making, reflecting Claims: You matter in the world. You have an awesome opportunity and responsibility to help others.

Counterclaim: You are responsible for yourself. You aren't responsible for others.

Essential Question: Do we have a responsibility to be a role model for others?

Storytelling: Talk about somebody who is a role model to you. Why do you look up to him/her? Talk about somebody who thinks you are a role model to them. What character traits about you would they highlight in saying you are a role model?
